Happy (belated) Easter!

We did not have Sunday School on Easter Sunday, and so this Sunday we celebrated Easter with some candy and talked about the Easter service before moving on to the lesson for the week.

This week, we talked about the Disciples hiding out in the upper room before their visit from Jesus. We talked about what our favorite outside activities are, and how we would feel if we had to stay inside for a long time. The weather was warm and sunny and so we went outside and enjoyed the weather for a little while before our craft.

When we went back inside, we talked about how the disciples had a hard time believing it was Jesus who came to visit them at first. Thomas had to feel the scars on Jesus's palms before he could believe it really was him.

For our craft, we folded a piece of construction paper in half and traced our hand with our pointed finger and thumb touching the edge of the fold. We cut the hand out and unfolded the paper to look like two hands. We drew the scars and wrote a verse from the bible story on the palms of the hands.
